

- Metallic green in color, its slender body measures 1/2 inch in length and 1/8 inch wide.

Emerald Ash Borer

a serious threat to IOWA Ash Trees

Leafy Sprouts at the Base of Tree

What is it?

- A wood-boring beetle that kills North American ash trees.

What does it do?

- Starves ash trees of nutrients and water by tunneling under bark.

D-Shaped Borer Exit Holes

For more information, contact:
ISU Extension Entomology: 515/294-1101
DNR: 515/281-5918 IDALS: 515/725-1470
Web Sites: www.emeraldashborer.info
www.na.fs.fed.us/fhp/eab/info/info.shtm

WARNING:
Don't Transport
FIREWOOD

Movement of infested firewood is the leading cause of EAB expansion and contributes to the spread of other insects and diseases.

PLEASE ONLY USE LOCAL SOURCES OF FIREWOOD.

If you visit out of state campgrounds, burn the firewood you bought there, don't bring it back to Iowa.

Bill Northey
Secretary of Agriculture