U.S. Forest Service to host wood products workshop

PRINCETON, WV—The U.S. Forest Service Wood Education and Resource Center in Princeton, WV, will host a workshop for wood product manufacturers on Thursday, June 7. Participants will learn about the latest technologies for making value-added wood products such as cabinets, furniture, and millwork.

The workshop is geared towards business owners and managers, key company personnel, and existing and startup businesses. Workshop presenters will discuss both innovations in equipment as well as software and materials. Equipment vendors have been invited to set up exhibits and offer demonstrations.

The course is cosponsored by the Wood Education and Resource Center, North Carolina State University – Wood Products Extension, and Woodshop News magazine. For more information, contact Harry Watt (harry_watt@ncsu.edu, 704-880-5034) or Joe Denig (joe_denig@ncsu.edu, 919-515-5582). Registration is $35. Additional information can be found at www.cnr.ncsu.edu/woodworkshops.

The Wood Education and Resource Center is located in Princeton, WV. It is administered by the U.S. Forest Service, Northeastern Area State and Private Forestry. The Center works with the forest products industry on sustainable forest products production in the 35 States of the eastern hardwood forest region. WERC provides state-of-the-art training, technology transfer, networking opportunities, applied research, and information. Visit www.na.fs.fed.us/werc for more information.
